GOVERNMENT TO INTERFERE. NO MORE EMIGRATION.

Will Fix the Rate of Exchange in Manila.

Washington, Aug. 6.—The war department is considering a remedy for the action of the Manila exchange market which has combined to reduce arbitrarily the rate of exchange on American gold. This action on the part of the banks is taken, it is said, on account of the abnormal condition in China, which the banks say has resulted in increasing the value of the Mexican dollar. Complaints have been made by the authorities in Manila, and it is probable that the war department will authorize Gen. MacArthur to take measures to guard against the action of the banks, and have the rate on silver fixed in the Philippines as it is by the treasury department here.

PROF. BRIDGES'S FUNERAL.

Bellevue, Wis., Aug. 6.—The funeral of Professor Joseph Emerson of Bellevue college, will be held at 2:30 o'clock from the college chapel Tuesday afternoon. The remains will be placed in the chapel before the service. Dr. Leach, pastor of the church, will conduct the services, and there will be several brief addresses.

THE LATE MAKER DEAD.

Westport, N. Y., Aug. 6.—William Clarke, of Newark, N. J., president of the William Clarke Thread company, died suddenly at his home at Watch Hill this morning of heart failure, which followed a severe attack of indigestion. He was well known on both sides of the Atlantic.

PRIVATE GAULEY DEAD.

Washington, Aug. 6.—Gen. Wood has informed the war department that Private Sherman Gauley, Troop H, Fifth cavalry, died at San Juan, Porto Rico, on the 3rd instant, of enteric fever.

COPYRIGHT THREAT.

London, Aug. 6.—The house of lords today gave judgment in the case of the Times vs. Lane, the question being whether a reporter can copyright speeches, in this case the utterances before those of Lord Rosebery. The judgment reverses the decision of the court of appeals, the house of lords upholding the copyright of the Times. Lord Rosebery dissented from the judgment.

SEVERE ENGAGEMENT BETWEEN THE ALLIED TROOPS AND CHINESE FORCES.

Sixteen Thousand Allies in the Battle and Losses Are 1200.

Washington, Aug. 6.—The following cablegrams have been received at the navy department: "Che Foo, Aug. 6.—Bureau Navigation, Washington: British reports unofficial engagement at Peking, Sunday morning, 3 to 10:30. Allied loss, killed and wounded, 1200, chiefly Russians and Japanese. Chinese retreating. 'TAUSSIG.'"

"Che Foo, Aug. 6.—Bureau Navigation, Washington: Unofficial report believed reliable: about 16,000 allies heavily engaged Chinese at Peking, daylight of the 5th. 'HEMEX.'"

Peking, Aug. 6.—The first railroad station about six miles northwest of Tien Tsin, enroute to Peking.

Taussig, who signed the first dispatch, is in command of the Yorktown, which is at Che Foo.

It is said at the war department that there is no reason to doubt that an engagement upon which the troops present are in command of the Yorktown, which is at Che Foo.

and other notables, is now occupied by Coassacks. Quite large quantities of bar silver were taken from the native city. The American and Japanese are said to have about 1,500,000 ounces, each of the government treasure. The Russians have placed their flag upon the salt piles. Most of the British engineers and the railways have received notice to quit.

THE ANTI-FOREIGNERS.

They Again Get the Upper Hand in China.

London, Aug. 6.—The anti-foreign party again has the upper hand at Peking. According to reports emerging from Li Hung Chang's lodgings at Shanghai, his baggage is packed for departure to his departure for Peking, but it is added, he has applied to the throne for twenty days sick leave. Li Hung Chan claims that his representations to the Yan Tse viceroys and Taitai Sheng will be denounce by Li Pih Hing, because they are friendly to the foreigners.

A news agency dispatch from Shanghai, dated today (Aug. 6), says it is rumored that the powerful viceroy, Yuan Shi Kai, governor of Shang-Tung, who disapproved of Prince Tuan, has been killed.

Correspondents at Tien Tsin are unable to get any definite news from a dispatch from Shanghai, dated Aug. 6, which says that the allies are making slow progress towards Peking, on account of differences of opinion among the generals. The American, British and Japanese commanders favor a plan of this dispatch affirms, and the Russians, French and Germans favor another plan.

Prince Tuan, it is added, seeks to inspire his army by proclamations ordering every foot of the road from Tien Tsin to Peking to be disputed.

All the Chinese troops have evidently been ordered to Peking, and driving back the Chinese will make a fierce fight at Peking, on a much greater scale than during the defense of Tien Tsin.

A dispatch received at the war office in St. Petersburg from Gen. Grodekoff, dated Khabarovsk, Aug. 4, says, "The Russian forces are now in the city of Khabarovsk, and driving back the Chinese will make a fierce fight at Peking, on a much greater scale than during the defense of Tien Tsin."

The dispatch adds that the battle around Aigun was continued Aug. 3, the Coassacks losing six men killed and twenty-five wounded, and driving back the Chinese, killing 200 and capturing two guns and two flags. An inscription on the Chinese wall reads: "The People of the Large Flat."

Aigun, when the dispatch was sent, was burning.

Other dispatches report Russian successes near Port Arthur.

ONLY A YARN.

Ambassador White Said Emperor William Never Advised Slaughter.

New York, Aug. 6.—Ambassador White, who arrived today from Germany, said in answer to questions regarding affairs in China, that Emperor William's speech to the soldiers who were about to China was "a yarn."

"He never meant," the ambassador said, "to tell them to give the Chinese no quarter. Nobody so understood his speech upon some papers put that construction upon it. The first time I heard of such an interpretation was when I received a certain article in the press."

He knows how to control himself, and he certainly never meant to command his troops to massacre the Chinese. He said to them, 'You are going to fight a desperate foe.'"

Germany deeply feels the assassination of her minister," Mr. White continued. "Baron von Ketteler was a superior man. He was much admired and his sad death made a deep impression."

Speaking of the general situation in China, Ambassador White said with enthusiasm: "The present condition of the empire is a new era. It means the beginning of the opening of China to the world."

"There are any talk of partition in Germany," he said, "but it is not a serious matter. Oh, no, this trouble will never terminate in such a way."

The allied powers, dictating terms to China, are not in a position to do so. Admiral Kempff's conduct in China," Mr. White said further, "was at first very bad, but he has since improved his policy."

Russia is looked upon with the usual distrust, but the fact that she and Germany fight shoulder to shoulder in China tends to improve the feeling between the two countries."

The responsibility for the action in Germany is not a serious matter. Oh, no, this trouble will never terminate in such a way."

Charles A. Towne Will Decline Populist Nomination For Vice President.

He Will Journey to Chicago and There Make Public Statement.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—Chairman Jones and Webster Davis, ex-assistant secretary of the interior, were in conference for an hour or more at the national Democratic headquarters today. Mr. Davis, it is understood, will make a series of speeches during the campaign, and the talk today was outlining the work to be done by him.

Sam D. Cook, Democratic nominee for secretary of state of Missouri, was a visitor. He said that the Democratic campaign in that state would open Aug. 27, the Republicans following Sept. 1. Both initial meetings will be held at Sedalia. Mr. Stevenson will make the first campaign speech for the Democratic and Theodore Roosevelt, governor of New York, for the Republicans.

Senator Jones has not yet completed the standing committee. The three committees to be selected are an executive, advisory and a press committee. J. A. Edgerton, secretary of the national Populist committee, is here arranging for the opening of a branch headquarters, the national headquarters of the Silver Republicans and the Silver Democrats of Idaho, at a meeting to be held in that city at that time.

It is expected Mr. Towne will withdraw from the Populist ticket, and his name will be replaced by that of Mr. Stevenson. Senator Allen, Mr. Towne, Mr. Edgerton and other members of the national committee are expected to be present. W. J. Bryan and Mr. Stevenson will also be in the city at that time.

J. Milton Turner, of Missouri, and ex-minister to Liberia, called at Democratic headquarters today for speaking assignments.

Several instances were brought to the attention of the newspapers where purchasers were told that commencing with today all prices will be in American money.

According to telegrams received in this city from many interior towns the shops are closed, and the peso is refused in payment for goods.

It is feared that riots and bloodshed will result before the matter is adjusted.

THE POWERS TRIAL.

Defense Will Not Conclude Its Testimony Until Friday.

Georgetown, Ky., Aug. 6.—The fifth week of the trial of former secretary of state, Caleb Powers, for alleged complicity in the Goebel murder conspiracy, began this morning. Ex-Governor Brown, chief counsel for the defense, announced that the defense will conclude its testimony probably on Friday.

Capt. D. B. Walcott, who has charge of soldiers that were quartered in the arsenal, at Frankfort, prior to the assassination, and who were called out immediately after the tragedy, was the first witness called today. The troops, he said, were placed in the arsenal under guard for the same length of time. He got his orders from Adj. Gen. Collier and did not know for what purpose the guard was placed there. He said it was merely incidental that the soldiers were equipped with side arms and equipments.

At the close of the examination Capt. Walcott withdrew the witness stand, and a view to contradicting W. H. Culton, who also was called again as a witness this afternoon.

Alexander Frost, a Knox county coal miner, said the men sent to Frankfort were to go there to contend for their rights and prevent the vote of that county from being thrown out.

R. C. Blanford, Marion county, was present at the conference at Frankfort at which W. H. Culton presided. Sheriff Burton, of Breckinridge county, made a wild speech, saying: "The only way to stop the contest was to explode cartridges in the neighborhood of the capitol hotel."

E. R. Bullock, of Lexington, gave some entirely new testimony. Witness said he was in the adjutant general's office when the shooting occurred. He came out and saw Jack Chinn walking rapidly into the state house. A man was standing behind the fountain in a stooping position. Witness could not tell whether he was white or black and did not know what became of him.

Stuart Stone, Governor Taylor's stenographer, testified he was in the governor's room when the shooting occurred. When Taylor heard what had happened, he expressed fear that all of the occupants of the executive building would be murdered. They broke into the office of the secretary of state and got some guns with which to defend themselves. According to the witness, Governor Taylor told Capt. Hart of Lexington, to arrest everybody in the building and take charge of the men.

WAGES ARE REDUCED.

Steel Company Cuts the Pay of Its Employees.

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 6.—Sweet's Steel company has made a cut in wages averaging about 25 per cent. Depression in the steel market was given as the cause. A year ago the company voluntarily raised the wages of its 150 employees. The men made a contract with W. A. Sweet, president of the company, today, but no agreement was reached and the greater number of men refused to work.

THIRD IN THE SERIES. Dorval, Que., Aug. 6.—This is the third day of the international race for the St. Lawrence cup and as the race on Saturday was a close one, the course will be the same today, to windward and return.

Each way, three times around, distance 12 miles. At 11:30 o'clock there was a very close and exciting race, gradually veering round to the south and showing signs of increasing.

Some Things That Baffle the Postal Department

Experts.

Big Mails Sent to Fictitious Addresses and Never

Glaimed.

A few weeks ago the postmaster at Toledo, Ohio, first called attention to the suspicious practices of persons who send letters to a postoffice with a request to stamp them and remail them to another town. Packages and bulky envelopes marked "circulars" or "printed matter," but prepaid at letter rates, are mailed the same inner-for-what purpose has to remain a matter of conjecture since there is no law authorizing a postoffice to open and examine such consignments. The senders evidently desire to conceal the contents of their parcels, and it is thus no doubt not seem to expect replies, since communications to their fictitious address are watched for in vain.

A circular of the assistant postmaster general of the United States states that the postmasters of some twenty other towns are regularly favored with similar requests, some of them having to forward pouches full of twice paid mail. The senders avoid the use of the name of the United States in the first magnitude, fearing rural indiscretion apparently as much as metropolitan shrewdness, and select towns of 50,000 to postoffices undoubtedly acquainted with the fact that the postmaster was a law, but not enjoying the assistance of special detective.

It was further ascertained, it was decided to counterpoise powerful tricks by stamping the envelopes with the words "no falsifications of this kind," and the postmaster was reminded at sender's request, that "protection of the mails" was the duty of the postoffice, and that the postmaster was to prevent abuses of the mails with the cooperation of postoffice employees, but can not be held responsible for the use of a trick with the assistance of a hired agent, and that the postoffice was not guilty of abusing the confidence of cross-readers, postmasters not in the habit of studying the contents of the mails, and the laws and regulations. The shrewdness of a student of the law, who had been exposed to an ingenious trick attempted at Charleston, S. C., where a soldier was arrested for the same purpose, and with intent to kill, and caused the judge advocate to remark, "it is a little Albany," relative to a little Albany.

Less easy to explain, even by conjecture, is the sudden arrival of bushels of mail to fictitious or unknown firms, says the Cincinnati Enquirer. What could have induced the schemer to mislead hundreds of correspondents whose replies he did not intend to receive at all? Had he planned a confidence game and taken alarm at the risk of a hype and cry? Absconded, and

Even so, a number of mail bags transferred from train to train in a matter of minutes at the railway junction three disappeared in broad daylight, and the manipulator of the push cart remembered that a well dressed stranger, apparently in a hurry to reach the ticket office, had stopped him for a moment to ask a ques-

THE FIRE KEPT UP

MacDonald Says the Chinese Kept Pegging at the Pekin Legations.

ARE IN GOOD SHAPE

Defenses Strengthened and the Garrison Doing Well
—Seymour's Report.

London, Aug. 8.—In the house of commons today, Mr. Broderick, parliamentary secretary of the foreign office, read a telegram from Sir Claude MacDonald, British minister to China, received in cipher at the foreign office this morning.

The dispatch was in reply to a government message and bore date of Pekin, Aug. 2. It was as follows:

"I have today received your cipher telegram forwarded to me by the Chinese minister. The shell and cannon fire ceased on July 16, but the rifle has continued from the Chinese positions held by government troops and Boxers intermittently ever since. The casualties since then have been slight. Except the private of marines, all the wounded are doing well, including the whole garrison. The total of killed is sixty, and of wounded, 110. We have strengthened our fortifications. We have over 300 women and children refugees in the legation. The Chinese government has refused transmission to telegrams in cipher until now."

Mr. Broderick also read the following dispatch from Admiral Seymour, filed at the Foreign Office, Aug. 8:

"The allies, about 12,000 strong, attacked the Chinese entrenched position at Kaitou, about two miles outside Tien Tsin early this morning. The Chinese were driven out and the advance upon Pekin has been begun."

This dispatch does not give the date of leaving Tien Tsin.

Mr. Broderick said he thought the messages were, on the whole, satisfactory. The country understood the policy of her majesty's government in regard to China, which was to carry out with absolute firmness and determination the measures taken to preserve the country's interests.

CABLE FROM CONGER.
Message Says the Situation is More Precarious.

Washington, Aug. 8.—The following cable from Minister Conger was received yesterday by the state department:

"Tien-An-Yamen, Aug. 7.—To Secretary of State: Still no dispatch from the Chinese government. Chinese government insisting upon leaving Pekin, which would be certain death. Little thing upon us daily by imperial army. Heavy bombardment continues, but little ammunition or provisions. Two and Mr. Conger appears to be in danger. All connected with legation of the United States well at present moment."

COMMANDER OF ALLIES.
Field Marshal Von Waldersee Is Reported Appointed.

Cologne, Aug. 8.—The Cologne Gazette's Berlin correspondent states that he has it from an authoritative source that Field Marshal Count Von Waldersee has been appointed commander-in-chief of the allied troops in China.

WU GETS AN EDICT.
Decree For Safe Conduct of Foreigners From Pekin.

Washington, Aug. 8.—The Chinese minister has received a copy of the imperial edict of Aug. 2, which was delayed in transmission. It directs the safe conduct of the foreigners to Tien Tsin, and assigns to the legations efficient officials to give this safe conduct.

The edict also directed that free communication be allowed between the ministers and their governments on messages in open text. A later communication dated Aug. 2, extended this free communication without regard to the message being in open text.

MESSAGE TO CONGER.
Government Exhorts Him to Be of Good Cheer.

Washington, Aug. 8.—A reply has been sent to Minister Conger by the state department to the message received from him late yesterday. It advises him of the approach of the relief column and exhorts him to be of good cheer. The dispatch was sent direct to Minister Conger at Pekin, and a duplicate of it to Consul General Goodnow at Shanghai.

Goodnow was directed to spare no pains or expense to get the message to Minister Conger.

CIPHER GOES.
Powers May Send Cipher Dispatches to Their Ministers in China.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Minister Wu this morning received an edict under date of Aug. 5, in which the Chinese government permits the powers to hold open and free communication with their ministers. This includes the sending of cipher messages.

RAILROADS DESTROYED.
St. Petersburg, Aug. 8.—War office telegrams received here from eastern Siberia show the Chinese have destroyed the railroad in several places, interrupting the passing of troops there. Repairs are proceeding. The Cossacks now guard 2000 miles of the frontier railroad.

PEITSANG IS TAKEN

Remy Sends Report By Chaffee of Its Capture By Japanese.

CHINESE FALL BACK

Their Force at the Town Is Reported In Full Retreat.

Washington, Aug. 8.—The navy department has received the following cablegram from Admiral Remy:

"Che Foo, Aug. 8.—Bureau of Navigation, Washington, Tientsin, Aug. 6.—Chaffee reports Japanese took Peitsang morning 5th. Engagement over before Americans arrived. Movement probably continued to Yang Tsun. Inform secretary of war."

REMY.
Vienna, Aug. 8.—The commander of the Austrian gunboat Zenta, now in Chinese waters, cables that Peitsang was captured by the allied forces Aug. 5, and that the Chinese troops fled. He adds that there were no casualties among the sixty men from the Zenta, who were engaged.

London, Aug. 8.—The British consul at Tien Tsin, under date of Monday, Aug. 6, announces that the Chinese have been expelled from Peitsang and that they are in full retreat.

CONCERNED BUT HOPEFUL.
How Minister Wu Views the Turn of Affairs.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Minister Wu showed the utmost concern in the seriousness of the situation. As to the message from Minister Conger, he said:

"It is not for me to discuss the Conger telegram, as it speaks for itself, but at such a moment I hope distorted and exaggerated interpretation will not be placed on the message. Its serious nature is not in question, but I ask the public to take what it says and not draw inferences as to its contents. It is dated at the Tsin-Yan-Yamen, which is the Yamen of the governor of Shan Tung. It is a direct communication from the governor to the state department, showing the efforts our officials are making to get through to the Chinese government at Pekin. Again, it is in cipher. I think it shows that the Chinese communication despite all the statements and criticisms that this free communication was made."

Mr. Conger's statement that the Chinese government insists upon our leaving Pekin, and that they are insisting upon leaving Pekin, which would be certain death. Little thing upon us daily by imperial army. Heavy bombardment continues, but little ammunition or provisions. Two and Mr. Conger appears to be in danger. All connected with legation of the United States well at present moment."

SITUATION UNCHANGED.
A Report From the German Legation at Pekin.

Berlin, Aug. 8.—The foreign office has received the following dispatch from the German legation at Pekin, dated Tsin Anko:

"On July 21, the situation has not changed. There has been neither attack by the troops en masse upon us, nor shooting, only a heavy rifle fire. The health of the members of the legation is comparatively good. The wounded are progressing."

LI'S LAST WORD.
Says If Allies Advance, the Chinese Must Fight.

London, Aug. 8.—In case the troops advance the Chinese must fight. The suggestion that the allies should be allowed to enter Pekin in order to escort the ministers to Tien Tsin is absolutely impossible.

This is the dictum of Li Hung Chang. It was transmitted last evening to William Pritchard Morgan, member of parliament for Merthyr Tydval, by his agent at Shanghai. The agent had carried to Earl Li a message from Mr. Morgan, asking that the allied troops be allowed to enter the capital, and stating that a settlement could be made at Tien Tsin.

RUSSIANS SALLY OUT.
They Advance Towards Chinese Trenches Near Peitsang.

New York, Aug. 8.—A dispatch to the Journal and Advertiser from Che Foo says: The Russians have gone out to a village east of Peitsang, where the Chinese are strongly entrenched. The Japanese came in touch with the Chinese outside Sunday.

Boats have been sunk in the Pei-tai to hinder progress, while the river bank has been cut, flooding the country to the east. The Chinese have mined the railway and killed the river with torpedoes. They have three large guns and many smaller ones at Peitsang. Gen. Ma is in command. The victory medals escaped to Hwang Tsin. Hence the allies, as making the outlook more cheerful today than since Admiral Seymour's unsuccessful expedition.

WORKING HARD.
Canton, Ohio, Aug. 8.—President McKinley left for the White House early at work today on official matters from Washington and, presumably, on the president's letter of acceptance, although no authoritative announcement has been made in regard to this document or as to where it will be given to the public.

HOLD A CONFERENCE.
Washington, Aug. 8.—Soon after Mr. Root arrived at the war department this morning he went to the White House and conferred with President McKinley over the long-distance telephone.

The result of the conference has not been known.

PUTS ITS FOOT DOWN

United States Sends China What Amounts to an Ultimatum.

MUCH ALARM IS FELT

Officials Regard the Situation as Very Dangerous For Legationers.

Washington, Aug. 8.—The message from Minister Conger brings the Chinese situation to its most serious stage, and the authorities in Washington regard the matter as one of great gravity.

They are aware that nothing but the most vigorous action can meet the conditions, save the ministers and other foreigners in Pekin and avert war of long duration.

After a conference of the men in charge of the diplomatic and military affairs, in which President McKinley participated over the long distance telephone, the cabinet decided to send a message to Consul Goodnow, repeating the conditions and could not be obtained, and advising him that the situation was very serious and a crisis had been reached.

He was directed to communicate the fact to Li Hung Chang, to Sheng and other officials, who were to transmit it to the government of China, with a strong representation that the present situation was intolerable and could not be continued beyond the most serious results. It is understood that the dispatch was practically an ultimatum, and an early reply was demanded.

The answer is expected during the day or evening, and it probably will determine the future action of this government.

It is now believed by the war department that the Chinese government will not reach Pekin in time to rescue the ministers if active hostilities should begin against the legations by the imperial troops. So serious do the officials regard the situation that it is believed by some that there is greater safety for the ministers to remain in Shanghai than to remain in Pekin if war should be declared.

The information received through the Chinese minister regarding the opening of communication between the ministers and their governments is a ray of hope in the situation.

Whether the promises contained in the edict would be made good ought to be carefully known, and if communication is established, the most serious consequences may be averted. Although there have been intimations before that such communication would be established, the first intimation has appeared in the form of an imperial edict.

As a result of this latest communication to Consul General Goodnow, the United States government is now in waiting attitude, hoping for the best, but apprehensive of the gravest possibilities.

WAIT FOR A REPLY.
Officials at Washington Pause For China's Answer.

Washington, Aug. 8.—While there is talk of the probable action of the United States government in the Chinese matter and some discussion of the possibility of an extra session of congress to deal with the whole situation, it is very likely that nothing will be done until additional information is received from China. The tenor of the message sent to Consul General Goodnow this morning, and which he is expected to communicate to the Chinese authorities, was such as to necessitate an answer at once. The authorities here are now awaiting that reply.

It is stated that President McKinley will not return to Washington until next week, when he will be accompanied by Mrs. McKinley.

As to the possibility of an extra session of congress, it was said this morning by a prominent official that such a session was improbable. The situation, he said, is one of rescue, and were it in session now it could not get additional troops into China to participate in the advance to Pekin.

BRITONS PERK UP.
MacDonald's Message and Allies' Victory Air Bracers.

London, Aug. 8.—The cipher dispatch from the British minister at Pekin, Sir Claude MacDonald, received at the British foreign office this morning and read in the house of commons today by the parliamentary secretary for the foreign office, Mr. Broderick, announcing that the members of the legations were holding out for five days ago, is taken, with the admiral's announcement that the Chinese have been defeated and are retreating before the allies, as making the outlook more cheerful today than since Admiral Seymour's unsuccessful expedition.

The Russians' hard fighting on the Suifu front, and the Chinese position on the Liao-Tung peninsula and the prospect of a revolt against France in Indo-China, all probably prevent either power from sending reinforcements to the allies operating against Pekin. Hence the United States, Great Britain, Germany and Japan will have to carry out the military program without any more troops from Russia or France.

Yokohama advises say dispatches received from Seoul affirm that a Korean cabinet will be organized to unite the Chinese and the Korean emperor in sending presents of rice, flour and cigars to the allies at Tien Tsin.

FOR ALLY NOTICE

Thousands of People Cheer Bryan and Stevenson at Indianapolis.

Every Telling Point Made By Bryan Received With Enthusiasm.

The speeches delivered by William J. Bryan and Adlai E. Stevenson at Indianapolis, accepting the Democratic nomination for president and vice-president, are published in Part 2 of this edition. In the same part will be found Charles A. Towne's letter declining the Populist nomination for vice-president.

Indianapolis, Aug. 8.—William Jennings Bryan, of Nebraska, and Adlai Stevenson, of Illinois, were notified of their nomination for the office of president and vice president of the republic in Military park this afternoon.

Thousands of people witnessed the ceremonies. Senator James K. Jones, chairman of the Democratic committee, was introduced by Mayor Taggart as presiding officer of the occasion. Senator Jones, in a brief speech, introduced Congressman R. Richardson, of Tennessee.

Congressman Richardson was received with wild cheers as he mounted the platform to deliver his address. He said that he had been selected as a presidential nominee of the Democratic convention at Kansas City.

When Mr. Bryan arose to reply, a demonstration occurred which was of considerable length. Cheer upon cheer greeted him at every telling period.

Governor Thomas, of Colorado, followed, notifying Mr. Stevenson of his nomination. Mr. Stevenson replied in a somewhat brief speech than that of Mr. Bryan.

Visitors and residents alike awaited somewhat impatiently today the ceremonies which were to witness the formal nomination of Messrs. Bryan and Stevenson to their respective offices of president and vice president of the United States at the hands of the Democratic party. The time named for the beginning of the ceremony was 2:30 p. m. This hour was chosen because large numbers of visitors were expected to arrive during the forenoon. The weather was hot, and many persons who sought early positions on the street, or in Military park, found their berths not entirely comfortable for so long a time.

The unofficial weather wisemen had, yesterday, predicted rain for the day, thus causing no little uneasiness to the managers of the notification ceremony, who had made all their arrangements to have the affair take place in the spacious grounds of the Indianapolis club, which is known as Military park.

They were, therefore, much relieved to find the sun shining when they started out for the day and they did not expect especially apprehensive when, later in the day, the sky became partly overcast by white clouds. They were still further gratified to find assurances in their morning newspapers that the weather was to be somewhat lower than yesterday.

The tedious of the forenoon was relieved largely by the arrival of a number of excursion parties from neighboring cities and towns. These parties were generally escorted through the streets by local or visiting bands.

The main streets and the principal hotels were decorated to a greater or less extent. Huge flags were suspended from wires strung across the thoroughfares along the line of march; small banners fluttered from many windows; bunting clambered ambitiously up almost every available pillar and swung loosely along many a vacant wall. Bryan and Stevenson portraits were in evidence everywhere, and in many cases these were decorated with the national colors. Altogether, taking into consideration the presence of so many strangers, including numerous people of national prominence, the music in the streets, the political talk heard on all sides and the decorations, the Indianapolis capital has taken on a decided conventional air, and it may be said that the event is proving a pronounced success.

The procession, which was announced to start at 1:15 p. m., like all processions was somewhat late in getting off, but when once in motion it moved along with somewhat more than the usual celerity. The parade was directed by Hon. Charles A. Garrad as chief marshal and escorted by a squad of police.

In the line of march were many local political organizations and a number of clubs from the surrounding country. At the Grand hotel a stop was made, and the Cook County Democracy, of Illinois; the Duckworth club, of Cincinnati, and the Jackson club, of Terre Haute. These clubs were present in large numbers and were accompanied by excellent bands. The members generally were portly men, well dressed, and called forth much favorable comment by their exactitude in marching.

The line of march was not long, but covered some of the principal streets. At the Grand hotel a stop was made, and Messrs. Bryan and Stevenson, their families and members of the notification committees and others entered carriages and joined the procession.

Both Mr. Bryan and Mr. Stevenson, as well as the members of the notification committees, were quite ready to meet their escort. The committees had held meetings earlier in the day and completed their organization, and nothing remained but to perform the duties which had been assigned them by the national convention.

The candidates had been patiently awaiting the arrival of the procession since early morning. They had spent the time in informal conferences with men of prominence from various parts of the country and in shaking hands with the throngs of people who met them at every turn, and it was evident that they felt anxious to have the notification ceremonies disposed of as soon as practicable.

The carriages moved in the following order:

The first carriage contained Mr. Bryan, Senator J. K. Jones, Hon. J. D. Richardson and Mayor Taggart, of Indianapolis. The second, Mr. Stevenson, Hon. Charles S. Thomas, Hon. D. J. Campau and Hon. Park Martin, chairman of the Indiana state Democratic committee. The third, Messrs. J. G. Johnson, chairman of the national executive committee; C. A. Walsh, secretary; J. M. Guffy, of Pennsylvania; and Mr. Dulain, of Missouri; Brecht, of Arizona; Neely, of Texas; Johnson, of Kansas; and Messrs. W. B. Woodberry, of Kentucky; H. D. Clayton, of Alabama; Senator Blackburn, of Kentucky; J. L. Norris, of the District of Columbia; and Robert E. Burke, chairman of Cook county Democracy, Chicago.

These carriages were followed by 102 members of the notification committee, in carriages, and by the ladies accompanying the various delegations and distinguished citizens.

All the carriages were escorted by the marching clubs in attendance from various parts of the country, under the charge and direction of Col. J. F. Martin, sergeant-at-arms.

The drive to Military park was slow. When the entrance was reached, the official party alighted, and the stand erected for the notables was soon filled. This stand was profusely decorated with the national colors, and numerous portraits of Bryan and Stevenson were exhibited. Senator Jones, as chairman of the national committee, presided.

TRIP FROM CHICAGO.
Ovation Given the Nominees' Party at Every Stop.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 8.—The special train on the Erie Road bringing William J. Bryan and Adlai E. Stevenson to this city, reached Indianapolis last night. The run from Chicago was an expedition of 1-1/2 days. There was, however, but slight loss of time and this was occasioned by a catnap on route.

Mr. Bryan and Mayor Harrison rode on the engine at the invitation of the railway authorities between Lafayette and Lebanon. Brief stops were made at several places on the way, and there were scores of people at many of the stops where were made.

The principal stops were made at Kankakee, Ill., and Lafayette, Ind. At both places large concourses of people awaited the coming of the train and at Kankakee the first speaking of the tour was inaugurated. The cheering and enthusiasm, but were in all cases orderly and good natured, and in no case did any of the people who had come out to meet the nominees at the station at Indianapolis.

At the station at Indianapolis was so great that it required the utmost energy of Colonel Martin to get his distinguished party landed in the waiting carriages.

When Mr. Bryan's well known figure was recognized a great shout was sent up and cheers followed him constantly until he arrived at the Grand hotel. The streets were lined thickly with people. It was 8 o'clock before the travelers started down to their delayed dinner. After dinner Mr. Bryan and Mr. Stevenson were given a general reception at the Grand hotel. Mrs. Bryan and Mrs. Stevenson were entertained by a committee of ladies.

IN GALA ATTIRE.
Indianapolis Handsomely Decorated For the Notification.

Indianapolis, Aug. 8.—Indianapolis has gone to work as one man to render successful and impressive the Democratic notification ceremonies taking place here today. The city is in gala attire and well decked out for the occasion.

When the sun rose this morning it shone upon a cheery, thus rendering it quite certain that the program for conducting the exercises in the open air, as originally decided upon, could be carried into effect. The weather was hot, to be sure, even at the early hour of sunrise, and the heat increased proportionately as "Old Sol" drove his chariot across the heavens, but this circumstance seemed to have little or no influence upon the throng of Democrats, Republicans and foreigners, who had come out to hear their candidates for the presidency and the vice presidency formally notified of their selection to the standard bearers of the party, and to see them started in the race for the White House. To be sure the people perspired, but all accepted the discomfort from this physical phenomenon with equanimity.

of happy homes unhappily weaned from the land of their birth. The man's wealth will increase while the woman's will diminish. The man's limit stands between a splendid happy land and a wretched one. The new noise of the rattle of our country would go on dominated by the man's will and the universal prosperity hitherto pervading the middle class and the poor of America, will come an unhappy reminiscence, with the man's riches and the woman's supplanted by the trust ridden ones of the new war. The man's things, founded on gold, grandeur, and glory.

The Platform quotes with hearty approval, the following words of the President: "Every nation has a right to friendship with all nations; entangling alliances with none. The Republic is not a party, but a people. When first they are not they are now. The Republican Party is not a party, but a people. When first they are not they are now. It has entered into a voluntary alliance with all nations, and which will in the end inevitably lead us to bloody wars."

STEVENSON ON TRUSTS

Democratic Candidate For Vice President Talks on the Issues.

Surplus Now in Treasury Should Be in the People's Pockets.

Indianapolis, Aug. 8.—In acknowledging the nomination of his name for vice-president by the Democratic party, Hon. Adlai E. Stevenson said:

I am profoundly grateful for the honor conferred upon me by my selection by the national Democratic convention as its candidate for the high office of vice-president of the United States. For the complimentary manner in which such action has been officially made known to me I express to you, Mr. Chairman, and to your honored associates of the committee, my sincere thanks.

Deeply impressed with a sense of the responsibility assumed by such candidacy, I accept the nomination as generously as I can. Should the action of the convention, most the approval of the people, be the result of the election, it will be my earnest endeavor to discharge my duty with fidelity to the trust of the great office.

It is well known to the constitution that at such times, public power shall be returned to the hands of the people. The essence of the Democratic platform, which we are now entering, is one of devotion to the people. It is the policy of the Democratic party to secure the widest possible participation to all conditions of our countrymen in the government.

The chief purpose of the great convention, which was held at St. Louis, was to secure the widest possible participation to all conditions of our countrymen in the government. It was the policy of the Democratic party to secure the widest possible participation to all conditions of our countrymen in the government.

Clearly and unambiguously, the Democratic platform is a declaration of war against the trusts. It is a declaration of war against the trusts. It is a declaration of war against the trusts.

It is not strange that those who have kept the political faith of the author of the Declaration of Independence should express their adherence to the effort of a great Democratic power to subvert a government which has been a death struggle to maintain their liberties. The earnest utterance of the convention, that our sympathies are with the people in their struggle against the trusts, is a hearty response from all who venerate the principles of our fathers. It is not true that, in all the past, a belief in the inalienable rights of all people has been with a living faith. That our sympathies have been with the oppressed, with those who are struggling for a larger measure of freedom for self-government. For this reason our government was among the first to extend recognition to the republics of France and Mexico, prompt to extend our sympathy, as well as official recognition, to the little South American states on their escape from the domination of Spain and upon their efforts to establish for themselves representative governments.

The latest appropriations, by the present Republican congress, should challenge the attention of all thoughtful men. Salable bills and all unnecessary taxes are condemned by our platform. The accumulation of surplus revenue is too often the pretext for wasteful appropriations of the public money.

The millions of surplus now accumulated in the treasury should be distributed in the pockets of the people. To this end the Democratic party demands a reduction of war taxes to the actual needs of the government, and a return to the policy of strict economy in all governmental expenditures.

In apt words the Dingley bill is condemned. It is a declaration of war against the people. It is a declaration of war against the people. It is a declaration of war against the people.

Adhering to the time honored doctrine of the Democratic party, that under no circumstances should the tariff be used as a means of raising revenue, we are now entering, is one of devotion to the people. It is the policy of the Democratic party to secure the widest possible participation to all conditions of our countrymen in the government.

For the protection of the home laborer, we demand the enforcement of the Chinese exclusion act. In the interest of an enlarged commerce, it favors the immediate construction of the Nicaragua canal. This, however, will be established by foreign barge companies, and the republic will be restored to its former position.

It is in conflict with that provision of the constitution which provides that the duties, imports, and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States. It is a declaration of war against the people. It is a declaration of war against the people. It is a declaration of war against the people.

It is in conflict with that provision of the constitution which provides that the duties, imports, and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States. It is a declaration of war against the people. It is a declaration of war against the people. It is a declaration of war against the people.

Important end of curtailing the power of trusts, we favor such amendments of our tariff laws as will free the products of our country from the free list, and thereby prevent monopoly under the plea of protection.

During almost four years of absolute Republican control of all departments of the government, the trust evil has grown to its present overshadowing proportions. What time has been wasted by its suppression? With its friends again entrenched in power, or what hope is held out for the future?

At this hour, I can but allude in brief to the situation. The attention of the country is called to the Democratic platform. Among these is such endorsement of the scope of the interstate commerce law as will protect the public from unjust transportation rates, and individuals from unfair discrimination. It is well known that the law has failed to affect the wide purpose for which it was enacted. It is now little more than a dead letter upon the statute books. Under well considered amendments, the commission should be vested with ample power to prevent injustice both to individuals and to the public.

Our platform favors the creation of a department of labor, whose chief office shall take rank with other constitutional departments. This is in the interest of justice, and will prove an important step in the restoration of our political and encouragement of the producers of wealth.

The majority of persons upon reaching middle age and past find their blood becomes weak and thin, and diseases that were easily controlled in earlier life begin to affect the constitution.

Those predisposed to Scrofula, Cancer, Rheumatism, Gout and other hereditary troubles may escape them, but as they age the blood, so long, tainted and weakened by accumulated waste matters, is no longer able to properly nourish the body, and it becomes an easy mark for disease. At this critical period of life the blood must be re-enforced before it can perform its legitimate functions and rid the system of these poisons, and nothing so surely and effectually does this as S. S. S.

S. S. S. is the only purely vegetable blood medicine known. No one particle of mercury, potash or other mineral poison can be found in it, and it may be taken for any length of time without harm.

S. S. S. is the only remedy that reaches deep-seated blood troubles like Scrofula, Cancer, Rheumatism, Eczema, Tetters, etc. It purifies and restores the blood to a healthy, normal condition, and makes it impossible for any poisonous waste materials to accumulate.

If you have an old running sore or a obstinate ulcer that refuses to heal, or are troubled with boils and carbuncles, try S. S. S. It never fails to make a quick and permanent cure of these pests. If your system is run down and you feel the need of a tonic, S. S. S. will strengthen and help you as it has many others to a happy, healthy old age.

S. S. S. cures Mr. H. B. Borden of Sumnerville, Va., of a case of... Borden of thirty-five years standing, after the doctors had failed. S. S. S. cures a man's blood and restores it to its normal condition, and there has been no return of the disease.

If you are in doubt about your disease, and will send a statement of your case, our physician will give you any information or advice needed, and will send you a bottle of S. S. S. at once.

S. S. S. IS THE IDEAL TONIC AND BLOOD PURIFIER FOR OLD PEOPLE.

LOODS AN OBSTACLE

Inundated Country Beyond

Peitsang Hinders the Allies' March.

CONSULS WORKED UP

Distrust at Shanghai Because

the British Are to Land

Troops.

London, Aug. 9.—The flooded country beyond Peitsang adds immeasurably to the difficulty of the progress of the allies on Peking. This news reaches the Shanghai correspondents from Tien Tsin, with a statement to the effect that the situation at Tien Tsin is again perilous on account of the assembling of Chinese troops within striking distance.

The losses of the allies in the recent operations are now said to be 1100 men, of which number the Russians lost 600,

the Japanese 410 and the British 120.

International suspicion has broken out among the consuls relative to the determination of the British to land there a brigade of Indian troops.

It is reported that the French will also land troops at Shanghai to the number of 1200 men.

While the ministers at Peking remain

unrelieved, it is not understood why

Great Britain should divert forces destined for the defence of the empire to a place where peace, thus far, has been undisturbed.

A news agency dispatch from Che Foo, dated Sunday, Aug. 5, says a messenger from Peking reports that the danger empire sent four carloads of food to the legations on July 28.

The British foreign office is understood to have received the last dispatch of the British minister at Peking, Sir Claude MacDonald, on the ground that his explicit statements regarding the quantity of food and ammunition available might be useful to the enemy.

A SHANGHAI RUMOR.

Sheng Said to Have Stopped Foodstuffs Going North.

New York, Aug. 9.—A dispatch to the

Tribune from London says:

The news from China is almost limited to messages received from the ministers in Peking. The "Express" correspondents in Shanghai send the disquieting intelligence that Sheng has prohibited the export of foodstuffs to the north. Such a measure would militate seriously against the operations of the relief force, which is largely dependent upon Shanghai for its supplies from Canton.

Express also reports that Li Hung

Chang is endeavoring to negotiate terms with Russia.

Satisfaction is generally expressed at the reported appointment of Count

Waldersee to the command of the allied forces in China. The Post's correspondent in Berlin states that in view of the fact that the appointment of the field marshal is held to foreshadow a dispatch to China of a largely augmented German force.

BENEFIT OF THE DOUBT.

United States Assumes the Chinese

Officials Mean Well.

Washington, Aug. 9.—A dispatch sent last night to the Chinese government, through Minister Wu, is not in the form or nature of an ultimatum. It is, however, that the first on the legation and that the Imperial government, if it desires to show its friendliness, shall cooperate with the relief column. This matter our government has proceeded in the assumption that the Chinese government is willing to do all it can to relieve the ministers.

MASSACRE STORY.

Five Priests Reported Murdered in Chi Li.

London, Aug. 9.—The Catholic Journal

announces new massacres and refers to the missions in the southeast province of Chi Li. It says that five priests have been killed.

BRITONS PESSIMISTIC.

MacDonald's Message Does Not

Dispel the Gloom.

New York, Aug. 9.—A dispatch to the

Tribune from London says: In spite of the message received from Sir Claude

MacDonald, announcing the comparative safety of the Peking legations up to Aug.

3, official circles here are full of pessimism. Gloomy views still prevail, and it is felt even now to more than doubt whether the allies can strike hard and quickly enough to save the ministers. The publication here of the latest

Congress message confirms this despondent opinion.

A curious example of this despondent frame of mind is found in the speech

read at the close of the barlia-mentary session. Her majesty is made to say that it is a matter of uncertainty whether the British minister and his family have been among the victims of Chinese violence, yet shortly before this address was submitted Mr. Broderick read to the house of commons the obituary notice from Sir Claude which showed that at any rate the British minister was alive on Friday last.

Outside of the foreign office there is a strong hope that the emphatic message communicated by Mr. Goodnow from the United States government may have some effect. Men who know the Chinese and their methods believe that the man-darine will deliver up the ministers un-harmful, but not until the last moment, and when they see the game of prevarication and resistance is up.

MISSIONARIES ARRIVE.

Fugitives From North China Land

at Vancouver.

Victoria, B. C., Aug. 9.—Among the passengers on the Empress of Japan, which arrived from the Orient yesterday were twenty-nine missionaries who were fugitives from north China. Many of them had narrow escapes. One of the number, a Miss Hawes, was in the company at Wei Shan, when it was rushed by the Boxers. In company with several others she escaped over a rear wall by means of a ladder. Rev. Jonathan

Lee and Mrs. Lee.

Corp. J. Kennedy and a Private Scott, who were among the Empress' passengers were present at the siege of Tien

Tsin. Mr. Lee sustained a wound

during the fighting. Stories of attacks of shocking horror are related by Kennedy and Scott. Among them is a tale of the slaughter of 200 helpless coolies who were going up the Pui Ho on a lighted on an engagement to do transporting for British consuls. Another awful story is related in connection with the fate of a party of British under command of Capt. Hays, who were cut off from Admiral Seymour's column. According to the report, the captain and his men were captured by Lin Chee. It is said the victims were beheaded and their heads sent to the first slain were placed in the mouths of those not yet put to the sword.

Passengers bring a report of the suicide of Mrs. Westwater, a woman missionary and wife of Dr. McDonald

Westwater, of Liao Yang, Manchuria, who took her own life at Arima, while suffering from mental depression caused by exciting experiences through which she passed while at New Chwang.

HAS FEARS.

Washington, Aug. 9.—The state department has been advised by him, in a brief dispatch received Aug. 7, that imperial troops are lying daily upon the ministers in Peking. We demand the immediate cessation of hostile attacks by imperial troops upon the legations, and urge the exercise of every power and every of the imperial government for the protection of the legations, and all foreigners therein.

We are also advised by the same dispatch from Minister Conger that, in his opinion, for the foreign ministers to leave Peking as proposed in the edict of

Aug. 2, would be certain death. In view of the fact that the imperial troops are now firing upon the legations, and in view of the doubt expressed by the imperial government in its edict of Aug. 2, as to its power to restore order and secure absolute safety in Peking, it is advised that the foreign ministers should not leave Peking until they are able to secure the necessary protection for their journey from Peking to the coast.

It is suggested that the imperial government should that it shall adopt the course suggested in the third clause of the resolution of the president of the emperor of China, of July 25, 1900, and enter into communication with the relief expedition so that cooperation may be secured between them for the liberation of the legations and the restoration of order. Such action on the part of the emperor would be a satisfactory demonstration of his friendliness and desire to attain these ends.

"ACING" SECRETARY.

State Department, Aug. 9, 1900.

The note, practically, is a demand for immediate compliance with the terms of the letter of the president to the emperor of China, sent July 25. It is not at all a new demand, but the emperor is generally commended as the best method of using the professed friendship of the imperial authorities to save the lega-tions. The demand for the immediate

THE AERIAL BRIDGE

Mr. Arnodin's Letter to City
In Reference to Proposed Canal Structure.

HE WANTS IT BUILT

Is Anxious to See Duluth Adopt His Idea and Makes Inducements.

M. Arnodin, inventor of the famous "aerial ferry" bridge, which has been one of Europe's engineering sensations of recent years, has consented and even offers inducements, for the building of his bridge in this city. He has examined the plans and correspondence sent him by Mayor Hugo, and has replied saying that the bridge would be thoroughly practical across the ship canal to Park point and that it would not, in the least, inconvenience navigation. In this he confirms the report made to the war department by Maj. Clinton B. Sears.

M. Arnodin usually charges 10 per cent of the cost of the bridge for the use of his patent, but in order to have Duluth introduce it in America, he is willing to concede half of that.

It is understood here that the Lake Carriers' association is not opposed to the bridge providing it can be built of sufficient height as not to interfere with navigation. The city officers will probably be of the opinion that the bridge will probably be between 112 and 150 feet.

Major Hugo, several days ago, received a letter from the French inventor, which was translated yesterday, and in which M. Arnodin says:

"I am of the conviction that Duluth is effectively a city with a future, and a bridge across the ship canal is required. It is likewise proper over the natural entry at the Wisconsin side. The bridge, of which I have the honor to be the inventor, is the only system which in such places can give satisfaction, where land transportation is desired with full respect to the first rights of the free passage of navigation."

"The most simple solution, in order to realize these conditions, would be that the state, county, or municipality establish the construction on its own account."

"At Newport, Mon., (Angleterre) the city defrayed the expense of construction, but that there may be no charge against it on the budget, it established a toll which should meet the cost of the execution of the work and the interests on the capital engaged. I believe that this is the best method of building, but another method is generally preferred. It is that, which we have used, the bridge at Rouen, Nantes, (France) and at Bilbao, (Spain). It consists of building the structure by the aid of private capital, which is remunerated by levying a toll; it is in sum, and in principle, the formation of a private company with concessions.

"My knowledge of matters in Duluth, is for the present insufficient to give you any advice upon any of these solutions, which are susceptible of being best adapted to your finances, resources, and population, together with your needs. It belongs to you to decide this matter. As for myself, the thing I can positively say, is that I am at your disposal, to study with all possible care, the technical part of the work, understanding that the financial part will be managed in Duluth."

"In each case should be allowed me, for the production of the preliminary of the project (that is, the plans with calculations, and the technical designs for execution), 1 per cent of the amount of the project."

"For the production of definite studies, with calculations, specifications, designs, execution, dimensions of all cables, fastenings, foundations, complete details for rolling car, method of propulsion by electric power, 5 per cent of the cost of the project."

"For the right of patent and construction and superintendence I would charge 2 per cent of the total cost, and if necessary to visit America, travel expenses would be added."

"From this simple information I can even now state that a bridge of 120 meters (320 feet) and 46 meters in height (151 feet), capable of carrying a load of sixty-five tons, would cost 220,000 francs, or about $100,000, but possibly as low as 100,000 francs, as I believe that materials are cheaper in America than France."

"At all events I would have you notice that this kind of structure is not yet public property, and that one might be exposed to many disappointments and serious vexations in employing, without knowledge of the system, I beg of you to trust the sincerity of my most respectful sentiments."

"M. ARNODIN:"

"The city officials appear well pleased with the inventor's letter, but believe that the work can be done much cheaper in this country than he estimates. Prominent vesselmen and expert engineers say that it is the only practical solution of the Park Point ferry question, and plans will now be pushed to bring about definite action."

"The proposed bridge consists of two steel pillars, nearly 200 feet high, which would be erected on Lake avenue, on either side of the canal. While massive and strong, these pillars would be graceful. Between them at a height to admit the passage of the largest vessels, a sort of suspension bridge would be built, consisting of a horizontal platform, supported by strong steel cables, stretched between the summits of the pillars. The platform or base of this overhead bridge would be at least 142 feet above the water. Upon it would be several steel tracks, along which wheels would roll, carrying vertical cables and the aerial ferry car attached to them.

"This car would be moved across the canal with great rapidity by electrical apparatus. It would be but a few feet above the water, and would have a capacity for passengers, teams and street cars. Four of these bridges are now in successful operation in Europe."

THE SWELLEST.

Melons From Iowa, Finest of All Coming In Now.

The melons from the Muscatine, Iowa, district, the elite of melonland, are coming in quite freely now. The Iowa melon is a good thing, and those that hail from around Muscatine way are the no plus ultra of the Iowa product. A fellow could crawl into a Muscatine watermelon and not want to come out for a week. The muskmelons are a delicious combination of flavors, several octaves at least in range, with a ravishing undertone of a cool mint julep or something else good that is sucked through a straw. The watermelons were quoted around 20 cents, and 30¢ was the ruling figure on musk.

"In other cases a scarce article of late, and have been around $1.75. The rains have started them, however, and liberal receipts are expected to bring down the price."

Cabbage was scarce and firmer in tone, but the price held around $1.25 to $1.40. Potatoes held steady at 40 cents, and steadiness, in fact, characterized the vegetable list in general.

Spring chickens held firm at 13 cents, while old ones were steady at 9¢ to 10¢; roasters, 6¢ to 7¢; turkeys, ducks and geese, 8¢ to 9¢.

Butter and cheese was unchanged. Apples were softer, with $2.25 to $2.50 per barrel the figure.

The order has a large membership in this city, and their annual picnics are always largely attended.

West Duluth

While the excessive rains of last week are great boons to the loggers, they have been the cause of the closing down of two of the West Duluth sawmills, for a few days at least. The Mitchell & McClure mill shut down at noon yesterday on account of the lumber steaming on the docks, and not because of a lack of logs on the Nemadji river, which went to dock room, as was reported in this morning's paper. The company has room for 3,000,000 or 4,000,000 feet of lumber yet available. One of the members of the company said this morning that never before in the experience of the company has it been so troubled as at present with the lumber steaming. The heavy and continuous rains, together with the heat and little wind, have brought about conditions not at all favorable. The company will start up the mill again as soon as there is a change of weather.

The St. Louis Lumber company's mill closed down last night because of a lack of logs to cut. The company has a lot of logs on the Nemadji river, which went to have been rafted down after Saturday's rain. This river is very susceptible to the effects of a hard rain, and there has been such a freshet since the heavy showers that it has not been advisable to commence the rafting. The river was ten inches lower Monday morning than on Sunday night, and it was arranged to begin the rafting today. The raft of last night are already raising to the level of Sunday night, and by tonight it is expected that the high water mark will be above any point yet reached this season. The St. Louis company will, however, have the mill running within twenty-four hours after the rafting commences. While the Merrill & Ring company is having the same lumber steaming trouble as the Mitchell & McClure people, the mill is still running, and the report that it will close down is denied.

FOUND THE TROUBLE.

A very interesting fistic encounter measured by rounds is said to have taken place in one of the West Duluth saloons last night between a local man of no little experience in the art of boxing and a fellow from Garfield avenue, said to possess nearly as much skill. The latter is said to have come out to West Duluth looking for trouble and speedily got his fill. The affray is described by those that witnessed it as a warm one, the Garfield avenue man getting the short end of it. It is reported that he made an unsuccessful attempt after the event to get a warrant for the arrest of the victor.

Great Show Being Given By This

Those that have not seen the La Pearl at the pavilion should do so at once. The long and varied program offered is certainly enough and draws the public, aside from the fact that the pavilion is the loveliest spot in this hot weather.

The good attraction is what is drawing the people. The novelties presented are just what the public want. The Ellet brothers double bar act is without doubt the cleverest work of its kind ever seen in Duluth. The Ellet Bros. were here with the Barnum circus. The illustrated songs by Nellie Carman are the best ever seen and heard. The artistic playing of Charles West on the violin is one of the principles of the entertainment. Every act is good and everyone is pleasing. The La Pearl company is

SAVANNAH FRAUD CASE.

Hearing on Removal of Defendants Drugs Along.

New York, Aug. 9.—The hearing in the proceedings against William F. and H. G. Gaylor and Benjamin D. Greene, indicted for alleged conspiracy with ex-Capt. O. M. Carter to defraud the government, looking towards their removal to the jurisdiction of the Georgia federal courts for trial, was resumed before Commissioner Shields today. J. W. O'Sterly, chief clerk of the United States engineer office, Savannah, Ga., a witness in the proceedings several times before, today identified a number of documents in connection with harbor improvement work done by the Gaylor.

Gaylor's counsel attempted to prove that the contracts in question upon which conspiracy was charged, all received the endorsement, either of the chief of the United States engineers or of the secretary of war. He also brought out the fact that under Capt. Carter's direction tri-monthly reports of the quality of materials used and the progress of the work were required of all assistant engineers and inspectors.

THE MCKINLEY'S PLANS.

They Will Be Absent From Canton
Several Weeks.

Canton, Ohio, Aug. 9.—When President McKinley leaves for Washington next week, it will be for an absence of several weeks from his Canton home. Mrs. McKinley expects to accompany him to the capital. They probably will start from Canton next Thursday. On Saturday, a reception will be tendered the Cuban school teachers visiting the United States. On Sunday, the president and his cabinet will attend memorial services for the late king of Italy.

President and Mrs. McKinley probably will remain in Washington the greater part of the week, and will go direct from there to Chicago to attend the national G. A. R. encampment. From Chicago, they will return to Canton and probably remain here until the second week in September, when they will go to Somerset, Pa., to attend the wedding of Miss Mohr McKinley, the president's niece, to Dr. Herman Baer. Beyond that, the plans have not been definitely arranged. It is probable, however, that part of the time between that and election day will be spent at Canton.

HAS GREAT ABILITY

New York, Aug. 10.—A dispatch of the Tribune from London says: The appointment of Count Wald-ersee to the command of the expeditionary forces in China has been favorably received here, and though it is not yet known, it is said that the official consent of all the allied governments has been obtained to the appointment prior to the public announcement on Wednesday, there is no doubt that it will be warmly accepted by the British cabinet. The subject was brought up at a meeting of the cabinet yesterday afternoon, under the presidency of Lord Salisbury. The military men in London, it is said, are of the opinion that Count Wald-ersee is a man of great ability, and that his appointment is a great gain to the allies. It is also said that the Count is a man of great ability, and that his appointment is a great gain to the allies.

It has been suggested that the German army is not so well equipped as the other powers, and that the Count's appointment is a great gain to the allies. It is also said that the Count is a man of great ability, and that his appointment is a great gain to the allies. Overpower the Watchman and Take Their Booty to La Crosse.

La Crosse, Wis., Aug. 10.—It was discovered today that a party of twenty-two men from La Crosse, who make log stealing a profession, had attacked the raft of W. J. Van Zant, which was tied at Dresbach, Minn., and recovered several hundred logs from it, which are valued at $100,000. The men were in sixteen skiffs and overpowered the watchman, and after taking the logs came to La Crosse with them and sold them to a local lumberman. Detectives are working on the case.

THE DAKOTAS.

North Dakota Druggists Demand Liquor Law Repealed—Railroad Tax.

NORTH DAKOTA. Fargo—The North Dakota druggists have taken unusual action. At their meeting a resolution was adopted protesting against the position they were placed in by the present prohibitory law of the state. Under the measure they are made blind plagers, and when they are asked to sell them, they are told that they are not allowed to do so. The druggists are asking for a repeal of the law and the adoption of a measure preventing their handling intoxicants.

COWAN IS DISMISSED.

Charges of Stealing a Watch Are Not Pressed.

In police court this morning George Cowan was acquitted on a charge of grand larceny in the first degree. It was a case of odd features. Cowan was arrested Tuesday morning for stealing a $40 gold watch from Pat Hogan. Both are back drivers, and the watch was taken from Hogan's pocket while he was asleep. Cowan was suspected, and within a few hours after Hogan discovered his loss he and Detective Troyer had traced Cowan to the Union depot. The officer searched him, and the watch was found secreted in his stocking. This morning at the examination Cowan admitted all this, putting up the plea that he took the watch from the sleeping backman for safe keeping, and on the strength of this the charges against him were dismissed.

John Mulligan and John Callahan each got ten days for drunkenness. Martin Podgorski, the Polish man fined Wednesday for causing the sudden and violent demise of a pig and a dog, out in the West End, was again arraigned. This time it was a charge of assault. He entered a plea of not guilty and the hearing was set for Aug. 14. Ada Smith, a colored woman charged with residing in a disturbed house, said she was not guilty, and kept one officer away from the policeman's picnic this afternoon to prove it.

The Case of the People vs. McKinley

The accused takes the stand to testify in his own defense.

Q.—What is your name? A.—William McKinley.

Q.—What is your business? A.—I am president of the United States.

Q.—Do you know the difference between the powers of a president of a country and those of a monarch? A.—I do.

Q.—State them. A.—A president merely executes the laws and the will of the national legislature, and may be impeached for going beyond those bounds; whereas a monarch may devise and carry out new measures.

Q.—What oath did you take when you assumed your place? A.—I swore to preserve, protect and defend the constitution of the United States.

Q.—In other words you took a solemn oath to base all your official actions on the letter or spirit of that instrument? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Do you believe in the sacredness of an oath? A.—I do. In the Christian interjection of solemnity.

Q.—Are you a follower of Christ? A.—No.

Q.—Do you know of any antagonism between the constitution and the laws founded on it, and the title and its code of laws? A.—I do not.

Q.—Is Christianity an aid or a hindrance to a republic? A.—It is an aid, but a hindrance to a republic without it.

Q.—You have heard of the maxim, "the end justifies the means," do you believe that one may follow that? A.—No.

Q.—Now, Mr. McKinley, will you tell us how it came about that we are at war with the Philippines? A.—Alfred Dewey took the Philippines from the Spaniards, during the war with Spain; that was why I took it over by the treaty of Paris, and which was ratified by the senate of the United States; but the inhabitants of those islands revolted against the treaty and our proclamation; therefore a resort to the military and naval power was necessary.

Q.—Is it not a fact that up to Aug. 13, 1898, the day after the signing of the peace, provisions of the treaty were held only by the United States and Spain?

Q.—Is it not a fact that he not only had not taken the islands, but seriously contemplated, as a war measure, to abandon both the harbor and the few thousand troops, early in August, when a Spanish fleet was coming to Manila?

Q.—Then our troops had not even a substantial foothold until after the peace treaty was signed? A.—No; they had not.

Q.—Is it not a well established international custom that, in the event of an advance of an insurrection, after the signing of articles of peace, both parties must stand as if it had not occurred?

Q.—Is it not a fact that, if Aguinaldo, with his 20,000 men, had not been in Manila, our troops would have taken it?

Q.—And they were there to take it? A.—Yes.

Q.—How did Aguinaldo get to Manila? A.—On a government vessel, at the suggestion of the United States.

Q.—What was his duty after you continued to send troops to the Philippines? A.—He was to protect our interests.

Q.—By whom were our interests threatened? A.—By no one, particularly not by the Spaniards.

Q.—Did you not think you would do for territory which at any time size upon the islands?

Q.—Then you had no authority from Congress for this war? A.—No.

Q.—And you had no authority for sending thousands of armed men among a distant and friendly people, to take them to a declaration of war? A.—Yes.

Q.—How many men did you send into the Philippines in the five months intervening between the signing of the peace and the declaration of war? A.—About 25,000.

Q.—What did you do with this large army of men in a war with the people of those islands, who you did not send there to fight? A.—I sent them to establish law and order, peace and the rule of law.

Q.—Is it not true that they had a government of their own, where constitution was modeled after our own, and a well established form of government? A.—Yes; but the government was not recognized by any other power.

Q.—And this non-recognition was sent to your initiative in a matter of law? A.—Yes.

Q.—Now, Mr. McKinley, will you tell us how it came about that we are at war with the Philippines? A.—Alfred Dewey took the Philippines from the Spaniards, during the war with Spain; that was why I took it over by the treaty of Paris, and which was ratified by the senate of the United States; but the inhabitants of those islands revolted against the treaty and our proclamation; therefore a resort to the military and naval power was necessary.

Q.—And they were there to take it? A.—Yes.

Q.—How did Aguinaldo get to Manila? A.—On a government vessel, at the suggestion of the United States.

Q.—What was his duty after you continued to send troops to the Philippines? A.—He was to protect our interests.

Q.—By whom were our interests threatened? A.—By no one, particularly not by the Spaniards.

Q.—Did you not think you would do for territory which at any time size upon the islands?

Q.—Then you had no authority from Congress for this war? A.—No.

Q.—And you had no authority for sending thousands of armed men among a distant and friendly people, to take them to a declaration of war? A.—Yes.

Q.—How many men did you send into the Philippines in the five months intervening between the signing of the peace and the declaration of war? A.—About 25,000.

Q.—What did you do with this large army of men in a war with the people of those islands, who you did not send there to fight? A.—I sent them to establish law and order, peace and the rule of law.

Q.—Is it not true that they had a government of their own, where constitution was modeled after our own, and a well established form of government? A.—Yes; but the government was not recognized by any other power.

Q.—And this non-recognition was sent to your initiative in a matter of law? A.—Yes.

Q.—Now, Mr. McKinley, will you tell us how it came about that we are at war with the Philippines? A.—Alfred Dewey took the Philippines from the Spaniards, during the war with Spain; that was why I took it over by the treaty of Paris, and which was ratified by the senate of the United States; but the inhabitants of those islands revolted against the treaty and our proclamation; therefore a resort to the military and naval power was necessary.

Q.—Is it not a fact that up to Aug. 13, 1898, the day after the signing of the peace, provisions of the treaty were held only by the United States and Spain?

Q.—Is it not a fact that he not only had not taken the islands, but seriously contemplated, as a war measure, to abandon both the harbor and the few thousand troops, early in August, when a Spanish fleet was coming to Manila?

Q.—Then our troops had not even a substantial foothold until after the peace treaty was signed? A.—No; they had not.

Q.—Is it not a well established international custom that, in the event of an advance of an insurrection, after the signing of articles of peace, both parties must stand as if it had not occurred?

Q.—Is it not a fact that, if Aguinaldo, with his 20,000 men, had not been in Manila, our troops would have taken it?

Q.—And they were there to take it? A.—Yes.

ed Philippines, less the number that have died of their wounds? A.—Unfortunately no other conclusion is tenable.

Q.—How many dependent ones are suffering because of this slaughter and maiming? A.—About 200,000.

Q.—Was there not also much property destroyed, churches desecrated and used for military purposes? A.—Yes, but it was unavoidable.

Q.—Is it true that an invading army of aliens is now, and always has been, regarded as a grave danger to virtue? A.—Yes.

Q.—Thus far, then, you have made a deplorable failure of your effort to bring the Philippine happiness and order? A.—Yes, but they would not submit without the use of force.

Q.—Is it not a fact that the government of the Philippines not only did not ask military aid from this government, but constantly protested that they would fight, as they have fought, for independence? A.—Yes, but I did not think that they meant it seriously; and I thought that they did not know what was good for them.

Q.—Perhaps it was upon the same grounds that you refused to wait for the action of congress, when you took initiative in a new war by placing 35,000 men on the islands and taking possession of Manila during the peace interval? A.—Yes.

Q.—Did you not also take into account the fact that the United States, by its action, would insure the domination of the Republic for years to come, and for ever make me a prominent figure in history? A.—Yes.

Q.—What precedents did they quote you, if any? A.—Louisiana, Florida, Texas, the forcible retention of the southern states, and Alaska.

Q.—Was there in any one of these cases a protest by the inhabitants? A.—No.

Q.—Is it not also true that in the case of the first two it was a foreign government that used force to subdue rebellion within its own borders, was it not? A.—Yes.

Q.—And in the case of the third, that there was an independent government for several years, through which they asked and pleaded for annexation? A.—Yes.

Q.—The case of the South simply decided the question whether the republic could use force to subdue rebellion within its own borders, was it not? A.—Yes.

Q.—And that of Alaska was, again, that of a foreigner relinquishing American territory, the negotiations springing from a friendly act of Russia during the rebellion? A.—Yes.

Q.—And is it not also true that in every case of these cases congress and congress alone was the determining power? A.—All that is undeniable, but my friends did not present those precedents in that way.

Q.—Have you any other excuse for sending the troops to the Philippines, the mobilization of which congress had authorized for the liberation of Cuba? A.—Spain had ceded the islands to us, and I knew it would take at least 40,000 men to hold them.

Q.—You mean to say that you knew that Spain would cede them and that Congress would not ratify the cession? A.—Yes.

Q.—Did you know that the number of men on the ground when congress at last did ratify the cession of the islands to the Philippines included in the terms under which the war closed? A.—No.

From Maine to Florida Peruna's Fame Has Spread.

Mr. H. C. Carew writes from Brockton, Mass., the following:

"About ten years ago I was greatly distressed by dyspepsia and took no relief until I procured a bottle of Peruna. I followed the physicians' prescription without relief whatsoever.

A friend insisted on my using Peruna. It worked wonders and entirely cured me of the disagreeable dyspepsia. I cannot speak too highly of Peruna."

Mr. James R. Hunt writes: "I have been troubled with dyspepsia for fourteen years. I have been sick, sour, my bowels constive, had palpitation of the heart, and a general feeling of nervousness. I did not sleep good, my head felt tight and had specks before the eyes. I have tried many remedies, various dietaries, and consulted physicians in vain, but without success. I procured a bottle of Maatlin and have since been using it continually. I have realized much benefit from its use. It keeps my bowels regular, and I think it is the best dyspepsia remedy I have used."

Mrs. N. C. Brown, Asheville, N. C., writes:

"For several years I was troubled with indigestion, an increase of acid in the stomach, headache, loss of appetite, nervousness, and almost complete paralysis of the left arm. My friends advised me to try Peruna. Four bottles cured me sound and well, and I have not felt a symptom of my trouble since."

Kate Brooks, a woman 56 years of age, was sentenced to the county jail for thirty days for larceny. Gray haired, withered and stooping, her long years of dissipation showing prominently in the lines of her face, she talked loudly in a high-strung, nervous manner, and her pitiable condition created much sympathy.

She was charged with stealing $9 from Mrs. Eliza Jackson and the charges were fully proven. Under ordinary circumstances the sentence would have been much heavier, but the court was lenient on account of Mrs. Brooks' advanced age.

ized to good effect as filling, says an exchange. The regulation is bary and reasonable, and it is not to be expected that the adulterated cream will be called shortcake, at least in the opinion of those familiar with the biscuit shortcake used by the housekeepers of the past generation, and this season there was a new twist in the favor of the old-fashioned kind. According to a housekeeper of experience sour cream can be utilized in the making of shortcake by adding a pinch of soda and a pinch of salt to a pinch of cream, and then adding the powder. Although this is not the method usually followed it is said that a delicious cake can be made by substituting the sour cream for milk, according to the directions indicated.

Outlines the Plan Under Which They Are to Be Worked.

The board took favorable action on the petition for a township organization for 58-18, and the first meeting was fixed for 58-19. The petitioners for the township were named Gothenburg, but the first two syllables were cut off and the name was changed to Gothen. The district was made in 58-19 at the village of Sharon, with the polling place at the office of the Sharon Oil Company. The board also elected John J. Whinnery, John Sullivan and George Gill.

The board decided to buy the point for the new town tract from the Chicago and have the work done at once. Commissioner Kauppi wanted the two Murray bridges on the Murray road. The road is now owned by Nelson. He wanted money borrowed from next year, but there was no second to his motion. The board then adjourned and the work was needed.
